Automatic External Defibrillator Over-the-Counter (OTC) Advisory

Although the Federal Government does not require a prescription to purchase the Philips HeartStart OnSite Automatic external Defibrillator (AED) with Carrying Case (BTM#2476-066C01), we strongly recommend that you contact your State Emergency Medical Services (EMS) office as well as your local EMS provider (Fire Department and/or Ambulance Service) to ascertain the training and use requirements mandated by State and/or Local regulations and statutes.

Philips has engineered the OnSite for ease of use and reliability but Defibrillators are just one aspect of a well-planned resuscitation program. We recommend medical oversight of early defibrillation programs by a physician or other authorized medical practitioner. We also recommend the development of formal policies and procedures governing training, use, and proper maintenance of the device. Resources are available on the Philips website at: http://www.medical.philips.com/us/products/resuscitation/.

In order for the HeartStart OnSite AED to be purchased as an OTC item, the unit must be purchased with and stored in an OnSite Carry Case. This form is only valid for purchase of item 2746-066C01 which includes both the Defibrillator and Carrying Case.
